Tareekh Pe Tareekh' Cannot Define India's Criminal Justice System, Allahabad HC Says in 24-Year-Old Case

Sheikh Rayees • July 18, 2026

PUBLISHED REPORT

A criminal case that has remained unresolved for nearly a quarter of a century has prompted the Allahabad High Court to question the culture of prolonged adjournments and institutional delay, warning that “tareekh pe tareekh” must not become the defining identity of the justice system. The observation came as Justice Rajeev Bharti granted anticipatory bail to two accused in a kidnapping case dating back to 2001. The Court noted that...
