Supreme Court Nudges High Courts on Transparency in VC Access

Sheikh Rayees • April 18, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Supreme Court has closed a long-pending set of petitions originally filed during the pandemic, which sought uninterrupted virtual access to courtroom proceedings for lawyers and litigants. The Court made it clear: it's time for High Court administrative committees to step up and sort this out. At the heart of the matter lies a lingering grievance—despite the prevalence of virtual court systems, lawyers and litigants whose matters aren't listed for...
