Supreme Court Calls Out the Tribunal Reforms Act's Constitutional Make-Over

Sheikh Rayees • November 20, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Supreme Court, in a thunderous judgment, dismantled the Tribunal Reforms Act, 2021—calling out what it viewed as a legislative déjà vu of the most unsettling kind. According to the Court, re-enacting provisions that had already been buried by earlier rulings wasn't just bad governance—it was a direct brush against the constitutional grain.
