Supreme Court Strikes Down Split-Quashing of FIR

Sheikh Rayees • November 18, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a firm reminder that a single incident cannot be sliced into convenient legal fragments, the Supreme Court has overturned a Bombay High Court decision that tried to do exactly that. The High Court had erased several charges from an FIR on the basis of a compromise, yet allowed the dacoity allegation to survive — even though every accusation stemmed from one continuous episode.
